

Technology and Mexican Herpetology, and A Tale of Three Vipers: Mexico's Horned Pitvipers of the Genus Ophryacus. Brandon La Forest

Brandon is a native Arizonan who has been interested in amphibians and reptiles, especially rattlesnakes, for as long as he can remember. He enjoys travelling abroad to seek and study amphibians and reptiles. Mexico has always been a favorite destination for him. Its tales of danger and treasure have never failed to entice him to visit remote places south of the border. His presentation will be in two parts – a discussion of notable and interesting techniques for studying herptiles, and the hunt for and natural history of three Mexican Horned Pitvipers (Ophryacus).

17 Oct 2018, 7:15, Ward 3 Conference Room,
1510 E Grant. Pre-meeting dinner at Rubios,
2906 N Campbell, 5:30.

